WHO ARE THESE PEOPLE?

There is, as we all know, a difference between a house and a home. A house is a shell whose stark and empty rooms testify to a former occupancy and a present vacancy. It is often the case that the room once echoed with the laughter of children, the fellowship of families, and even the singing of Easter hymns and Christmas carols. Those days are gone, the folks have moved and the house gets dusty from non-use.

A home is quite a different thing. The lights illuminate the hustle and the bustle of activity. A baby cries, the kids run in and out, the adults confer about important things, a broken window is quickly repaired and life goes on.

Yes, there is something about a home which is more than bricks and boards and stairways. It is the family that makes a house a home and this becomes possible because there is

"If the Son therefore shall make you free, you shall be free indeed" (John 8:36).

KEEPERS OF THE FLAME

a lighted fire in the furnace or the fireplace. The home is warm and hospitable because someone put another log on the fire. That someone could well be called the "keeper of the flame."

A home is something like civilization itself. The world is not just numbered people who produce a statistic for the demographers. No, civilization is made what it is because it warms the hearts of its participants and encourages them with a constantly renewed vision of the future. There is within the life of the world some keepers of the flame. They are people who not only make life worth living, but they are the ones without whom the world could not survive. They bring sanity and sense to the irrational age in the midst of which we live. They shine like lights in the world. They hold forth the Word of Life in the midst of crooked and perverse nations where they live and serve. They are unimpressed with the world's "solutions" but continue to hold high the burning torch of truth and reality.

Who are these people who make life possible in this world? The answer is that these people are the children of God.

These people are Christians!

Yes, while the world will not admit it, these people of God are the reason that mankind is still around. What is the nature of the influence that Christians have upon the external world? The answer should be obvious but it needs to be said again and again.

Christians are keepers of the flame of freedom. With a quick examination, we notice that the story of people is generally the story of one group enslaving another. Often this comes in the form of the king, the emperor and his court, flogging a helpless citizen into obeying the dictates of the man in charge. One can look across the pagan world almost in vain to find a single nation whose people can call themselves free. The idea of individual freedom is part and parcel of "Christian civilization." To move out from the circle of light which is Europe and the United States, is to drop into the darkness of paganism and the pitiful posturing of tribal gods.

What a contrast is Christian civilization! The flame of freedom has continued to burn in the great democracies because of the influence of the Bible and the knowledge of God. Freedom, a product of Christianity, has produced the amazing advances of science, technology, philosophy, and a thousand other things that have made this amazing entity called "Christian civilization" a remarkable thing. Strictly speaking, Christianity has produced the only civilization there is. Beyond the light of the Gospel is the darkness and wasteland produced by what Rudyard Kipling called, "lesser breeds without the law." One of the most remarkable and amazingly true statements ever pronounced were the words of Christ, "If the Son therefore shall make you free, you shall be free indeed” (John 8:36).

Christians are guardians of the flame of faith. What is behind the amazing vitality of Christianity? It is more than optimistic talk, clever economics or interesting theories. Rather, the engine behind Christian reality, is the message called “the Gospel of the grace of God.” To whatever measure the Bible has been preached and the message of grace emphasized, to that extent the culture has been changed. It is the faith of the Gospel that has done it. Yes, the Word of God with the testimony of Jesus Christ has already proved itself to be the most life-changing, culture-preserving message on the face of the earth. Nothing can compare with it! The darkness of the Islamic lands, the thousands of gods of India and Asia have produced nothing like the results of the Gospel. This faith, once delivered to the saints, has brought millions to receive the gift of God-- which is everlasting life, and altered the culture in the process.

Christians are keepers of the flame of opportunity. One of the most wonderful promises made in all of history came when the eternal God spoke to the Church of our time, saying, “Behold, I have set before you an open door; and no man can shut it” (Rev. 3:8). For the Christian, different from many other views, this is a world of opportunity. “God has yet greater things for His people” is a slogan common to Christians. Believers in Christ often remind themselves, saying, “I can be something today that I wasn’t yesterday,” “With God’s help I will ‘mount up with wings as eagles.’” One is not a Christian for long until he notices that the Bible is full of amazing promises of “something more,” “something beyond.” Because God works within both to will and to do of His good pleasure, the Christian never fails at divine optimism.

The Church has passed on that optimism to the world in a great measure. By giving to mankind the proper view of history, the Church has made one of its greatest contributions to mankind. Christians announce that history is a scenario produced by the eternal God and that it finally flows out into the wideness of eternity. It is the Christian that quotes God, saying, “Eye has not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God has prepared for them that love Him” (1 Cor. 2:9). Something of the ebullient spirit of the Christian has percolated out into the world. Opportunity is one of the favorite words of the Christian. It does not apply in the same way to the world for whom the basis of life is tragic. Black despair is one of the common attitudes of the aging multitudes of our world who have never come to confidence in Christ.

We Christians are, therefore, justly proud of our wonderful Savior and enormously confident in the fact that He presides over the destinies of nations. Because of the message of Christ, there is something to live for, something to hope for in this world of ours. Christians--the keepers of the flame--have continued to furnish the oil and the attention that makes the beacon of hope burn brightly in our world. The keepers of the flame invite you to become one of them.

Christians are keepers of the flame of truth. If ever there was a characteristic of our time, it is expressed in the word, “delusion.” When speaking of the rise of the Antichrist, the Scripture says, “For this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe the lie: That they all might be damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness” (2 Thess. 2:11,12). We are even told that “Now the Spirit speaks expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of demons” (1 Tim. 4:1). We Christians are informed that Satan “was a liar from the beginning.” As his influence grows toward the end of the age, we can expect that the “father of lies” will greatly heighten his activity. It is surely soon to come true that, as the poet said,

*“Hold ’ere this truth before your eyes
That all the world is lies and lies.”*

Yes, indeed, the truth about anything will become a very scarce commodity as we move toward the end of the age. The world will become lies, all lies.

While this fraudulent world will become very distressing, it will also make Christianity in our time a very strategic entity. People, desperately seeking the truth, will be able to find it in but one source, the Word of God. Therefore, we Christians, in holding forth the Word of Life, will be the only real source of sense and sanity to a world that has become totally cynical. With the truth of Christ, we are free indeed.

From the writings of Dave Breese

THE CHRISTIAN LIFE

*However long, however short,
However tinged with pain,
Though rich or poor, the Christian life
Is never loss, but gain.*

*It may be lived at towering heights
Or in the valley dim.
No matter, for the child of God
Is linked at last to Him.*

*The life of faith considers not
The ambiance of time.
For it, the trials, the joys, the tears,
Are equally sublime.*

*With mind acutely conscious of
The wonder of it all,
The Christian oft is mystified
That life should ever pall.*

*He little cares for lesser things
That do not fit the plan,
He knows the best of everything
God gives to mortal man.*

*So with a bright'ning hope he lives
In thrall of that great day.
When Christ the Author of his life
Will catch the Church away*

*To that bright land where golden dreams
And earnest hopes come true.
Where all for which he will have lived
Is vindicated, too.*

*Each trusting soul or trembling saint
Will bid this world farewell,
To move to that celestial home
Where all is well, is well.*

WORTH QUOTING

“As Christians we are tempted to make unnecessary concessions to those outside the Faith. We give in too much. Now, I don’t mean that we should run the risk of making a nuisance of ourselves by witnessing at improper times, but there comes a time when we must show that we disagree. We must show our Christian colours, if we are to be true to Jesus Christ. We cannot remain silent or concede everything away.”— C. S. Lewis, God In The Dock

“I do believe there is many a tear in the heart that never reaches the eyes.”
— Norman MacEwan

“He that cannot forgive others breaks the bridge over which he must pass himself for every man has need to be forgiven.”— Lord Herbert

“No thoroughly occupied man was ever yet very miserable.”
— L.E. Landon

“I go walking and the hills alone above me, range upon range, one against another. I cannot tell where one begins and another leaves off. But when I talk with God, He lifts me up where I can see clearly, where everything has a distinct contour.”
— Mme. Chiang Kai-shek

*But especially,
“But God commends His love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. Much more then, being now justified by His blood, we shall be saved from wrath through Him” (Rom. 5:8).*

THE TIDE OF OUR TIMES

“HIGH-PROFILE expressions of faith by athletes have become [more] routine in pro sports since [Philadelphia Eagle’s running back Herb Lusk dropped to a knee in the NFL’s first public end-zone prayer, reflecting] decades of influence by evangelical Christian groups in locker rooms and a belief among some Christian athletes that their visibility is a gift they should use to proclaim their faith.” Jay Lindsay, Associated Press

“OPERATION RESCUE (OR)... spokesman Troy Newman said nearly 1,500 abortion clinics in the U.S. have closed and not reopened since 1991. He believes only about 713 clinics are still open for business in the states. Newman said OR has never found an abortion mill that complies with the law...Newman is convinced that the days of legal abortion in the U.S. are numbered.” www.onenewsnow.com

“CAP-AND-TRADE... seeks to severely limit carbon-dioxide emissions. Every business involved in carbon emissions would be required to purchase permits from the government. Over time, emissions allowed would be curbed, making the permits increasingly valuable--and expensive. Companies would be allowed to trade or sell them on the open market.

Cap-and-trade would impose huge costs on the economy and undermine job creation.” Jeffrey T. Kuhner, The Washington Times

“THE END OF YEMEN’S JEWS-- History will record that 2,500 years of Jewish life in Yemen is now over. As the Wall Street Journal reported... the U. S. State Department has completed a clandestine operation which brought 60 of the country’s remaining Jews to America... ‘This is the end of the Jewish Diaspora of Yemen. That’s it.’”

NO CHURCH IN THE OLD TESTAMENT

As you peruse the pages of the Old Testament, you will look in vain to find the church. The church was a mystery--concealed in past ages but now revealed. God has taken Jew and Gentile, and through the death and resurrection of His Son, He has saved them and baptized them in one Spirit into the body of Christ, the church.

Dave Breese,
The Missing Church

YOUR QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Q: Once I am a Christian, can I be sure of going to heaven?

A: All who believe on Jesus Christ have everlasting life. Christ spoke about believers when He said, “And I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of My hand. My Father, which gave them Me, is greater than all; and no man is able to pluck them out of My Father’s hand” (Jn. 10:28,29).

Q: How come so many of my prayers are not answered?

A: James gives us information about this, saying, “You have not, because you ask not. You ask, and receive not, because you ask amiss, that you may consume it upon your lusts” (Jas. 4:2,3). Therefore, we know that one of the chief causes of unanswered prayer is “asking amiss” for personal desire rather than a result to the glory of God. Remember also that, when we pray, God gives us a voice but not a veto. We will find that most prayers are answered with two words, “Better later.” God gives us better than we ask and usually answers on the basis of His timing and not ours.

Q: I hear a church singing, “Christ’s great kingdom has come on earth.” Is this true, is the kingdom of heaven here now?

A: In the commission of the kingdom, the Bible says, “These twelve Jesus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, Go not into the way of the Gentiles, and into any city of the Samaritans enter not: But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. And as you go, preach, saying, ‘The kingdom of heaven is at hand.’ Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out demons: freely you have received, freely give” (Matt. 10:5-8). The kingdom of heaven was promised as being heaven on earth with immense power on the part of its disciples. This was to be preached to Israel alone and was rejected by the nation of Israel.

Because the kingdom was rejected, Jesus said, “Behold, your house is left unto you desolate. For I say unto you, you shall not see Me henceforth, till you shall say, Blessed is He that comes in the name of the Lord” (Matt. 23:38,39). Because the Jews violently rejected the kingdom, Jesus pronounced desolation on the house of Israel. This desolation will continue until He comes again and is claimed by Israel. Therefore, to announce that the kingdom has come is bad theology and leads to many other errors. The kingdom is not yet but the day of grace is now.

Q: How can I get God to control my life?

A: You can’t. God will not control your life because He wants you to control it. He wants you to be responsible. “The fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, self-control” (Gal. 5:22,23).
