“THE ANCHOR OF OUR HOPE”

“Rejoice in the Lord always: and again I say, “Rejoice” (Philippians 4:4).

Longfellow was speaking about the nation, but he might well have been speaking about the Church, when he said:

*“Thou, too, sail on, O Ship of State!
Sail on, O Union, strong and great!
Humanity with all its fears,
With all the hopes of future years,
Is hanging breathless on thy fate!
We know what Master laid thy keel,
What Workmen wrought thy ribs of steel,
Who made each mast, and sail, and rope,
What anvils sang, what hammers beat,
In what a forge and what a heat
Were shaped the anchors of thy hope!
Fear not each sudden sound and shock,
’Tis of the wave and not the rock,
’Tis but the flapping of the sail,
And not a rent made by the gale
In spite of rock and tempest’s roar,
In spite of false lights on the shore,
Sail on, nor fear to breast the sea,
Our hearts, our hopes, are all with thee,
Our hearts, our hopes, our prayers,
our tears,
Our faith triumphant o’er our fears,
Are all with thee, - are all with thee.”*

Words like that can really stir the soul! They are the essence of a message that, in my judgment, God would give to the Church in our time. What I want you to consider is something that touches every one of our lives: what is “The Anchor of Our Hope?” How are we supposed to react to the staggering changes taking place in a world like this? If we are born-again children of God, our answer is in the Bible.

Be of Good Cheer

May I give you, first of all, the advice of Jesus Christ? Speaking about His own in times of trouble, He said:

“Behold, the hour comes, yea, is now come, that you shall be scattered, every man to his own, and shall leave Me alone: and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with Me. These things I have spoken unto you, that in Me you might have peace. In the world you shall have tribulation: but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world” (John 16:32-33).

Let’s face it, we live in a world that is very concerned about many things. Take a look across the world. Look at Europe, Russia, the Middle East, Africa, the United States, Latin America, the Far East, or the islands of the sea. The name of the game, in today’s world, is trouble.

In fact, people are starting to talk about something called “existential despair.” That’s a heavy word to describe a kind of a cosmic sadness that has come on our world. Perhaps you’ve noticed how now, more than ever, the press is talking about disillusionment. You hear about the breaking of our icons, and the disappearance of our values. People are wringing their hands and saying, “What about tomorrow? I’m very concerned about it.”

You, as a Christian, have no such problem. You, as a Christian, are advised by Jesus Christ to “be of good cheer.” Now if the Bible talks about anything, it talks about how Christians should be a people who are happy, and rejoicing.

“Rejoice in the Lord always: and again I say, Rejoice” (Philippians 4:4).

On virtually every page of the Bible, there is justification for great rejoicing on the part of a Christian. “Be of good cheer” is the word that God gives to us. After all, We have good reason to possess great joy, do we not?

- We are saved.
- We are seated in the heavenlies with Christ.
- We have the presence of the Holy Spirit.
- We have daily fellowship with God.
- We can bring our petitions directly to the Creator, through the privilege of prayer.

We live in a world that is very problematic, but we who know Jesus Christ as personal Savior know things that the rest of the world doesn’t know! We are to be “anxious for nothing” (Philippians 4:6). We are to be filled with a historic optimism, because we know what God is about to do. In fact, we should be filled with bright anticipation, as we watch His hand moving in our modern world, and understand what He's doing for us, even now.

"Be of good cheer": is that a phrase that you feel is relevant to your soul today?

In the last analysis, why should we rejoice? Should we rejoice because, as Christians, we are promised peace, prosperity, good health, the affirmation of our friends, and every wonderful human thing we could imagine? I think not. The things of the world are not guaranteed to bring happiness. That's why the Bible says:

"Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. And the world passes away, and the lust thereof; but he that does the will of God abides forever" (1 John 2:15-17).

The Bible says that the things of the world are falling apart. Just take a look around you, and you'll see it for yourself. The world is not getting better and better. The utopia promised by many people appears not to be happening. Even Christians notice this, and therefore they ask, "In what shall I rejoice? I cannot depend on the rewards that the world promises. It doesn't deliver! If there is to be a reason for my rejoicing, it will have to come from a better source than the world."

The Christian has a better source! God has planned an exciting life for you and for me that defies human logic.

Tribulation in the World

When we hear Jesus say to us, "Be of good cheer," it's easy to fall into the trap of thinking like the world, rather than like Christians. All too often we assume, "Well, that's a promise of prosperity, and health, and wealth. I can be of good cheer, if I live in a palace, have no problems, and everything is going in my direction. Surely, this is what

He is promising when He says, "Be of good cheer."

I'm afraid that is not the case. Rather, Jesus said to us, "In the world you shall have tribulation." This is a very good time to remind ourselves of the truth: the world promises, but it does not perform. The world will fool you, if you don't watch out. The world will fill you with its papier-mache expectations, and then leave you in the lurch. That's why the Bible says, "In the world you shall have tribulation."

"For unto you it is given in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on Him, but also to suffer for His sake" (Philippians 1:29).

It was Oswald Chambers who once said, "The blessing of the Old Testament is prosperity. The blessing of the New Testament is adversity."

"For whom the Lord loves He chastens, and scourges every son whom He receives" (Hebrews 12:6).

Now, why, really, is that the case? Should I not, as a child of God, enjoy every good thing in this world? Well, if these were the days of the Kingdom, the answer would be "Yes." But this isn't the Kingdom, it's the day of Grace. This is the day in which God speaks to us in the midst of the problems of life, and says:

"My grace is sufficient for you: for My strength is made perfect in weakness" (2 Corinthians 12:9).

Theologically, why is this the case? It's because the physical world is not yet redeemed. When I accept Christ as my personal Savior, I am given everlasting life in the spiritual realm. It is the soul that is born-again. But the body is still subject to the vicissitudes of this world, a world wracked by sin. The Scripture teaches that the soul has been redeemed, but:

"the whole creation groans and travails in pain together until now. . . waiting for the adoption, to wit, the redemption of our body" (Romans 8:22-23).

If we were instantly healthy, instantly wealthy, instantly fulfilled by the things of the world, the world would have a legitimate reason to question our motives. The world would accuse us, as Satan did Job, "Well, you're just in it for what you get out of it. You're just a Christian because of the sidebar benefits of knowing Christ, the health, the wealth, and the rest of it."

Well, that's not the case, is it? Rather, the world can look at us, and, because we're living for Christ, they can discover within us, a fountainhead of optimism, joy, and bright anticipation that is not exactly consistent with the conditions they see on the outside.

What is the ultimate reality of life? It is the presence of Jesus Christ, not a cooperating culture in the midst of which we live. We have the Word of Christ for it, do we not? "In the world you shall have tribulation."

Those to whom He spoke on that occasion were to move into the world as disciples of the Son of God. What did they encounter: happy approbation and quick acceptance? Did the world give them a round of applause because they were Christians? No. Eleven out of the twelve final disciples were martyred because of their faith in the Lord Jesus. And every one of them suffered real privation.

Virtually every one of the epistles contains words of consolation to New Testament Christians, who were facing unspeakable problems. The early days of the Church were filled with tremendous concern. The Church was born in the shadow of the oppressive Roman Empire, many times viewed as a paradigm for the awful reign of the Antichrist, that would come later.

Often, confessing Christ as Savior would cost you your life. Consequently, there were tens and tens of thousands of Christians who gave the last full measure of devotion for Christ. They lived out their faith in a perfect fashion. Most of them were offered a choice: worship one of the gods of Rome, and you can go free. Stay true to Christ, and we feed you to the lions, or we cut off your head. What did they do? It was a very rare thing to see a Christian turn on the Lord and give himself back to Rome, just for the saving of his life. The common thing was, that the Christian stood resolute.

Did this destroy the Church? No. Irenaus, one of the early Church Fathers, said, "The blood of the martyrs became the seed of the Church." Outsiders looked upon the courage, and the intrepid lives of these Christians, and asked, "What has happened to them that's so real, that they can stand cheerfully against all of the oppositions of the world? I must know that kind of reality!" Thousands came to Christ. There was massive spiritual revival. Many, many beyond number came to believe the Gospel, because of the testimony of Christians in the midst of adversity.

The Great Overcomer

"In the world you shall have tribulation: but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world" (John 16:33).

So what is the Anchor of Our Hope? Where do we find the strength to stand firm, in times like these?

The answer comes from Jesus Christ: "I have overcome the world." Yes, He's already been down the path that lies before us. He knows today, and presides over every one of our tomorrows. He is the King of all kings, and His decree provides our anchor: "I have overcome the world."

How has Jesus overcome the world for us? Well, first of all, He has overcome the power of sin in our lives. Every person, before he is a Christian, is subject to sin's terrible power. He is helpless before the dreadful temptations and spiritual subversions of this world. He cannot really stand against them, because despite a concerned conscience, he doesn't have the strength to do it.

But when Christ steps into his life, things change. You'll recall that when Jesus Christ saves us, He saves us in three different ways. He saves us from the penalty of sin, which is hell. He also delivers us from the power of sin.

"For sin shall not have dominion over you: for you are not under the law, but under grace" (Romans 6:14).

The world is under the dominion of sin. It can't help itself. But you and I, because we have come to know Christ as personal Savior, are now no longer dominated by the fearful, terrible power of sin. The Bible says we have been "delivered from the bondage of corruption" (Romans 8:21).

Think of the amazing capability that grows in the life of a Christian who discovers this. He is able to "mount up with wings as eagles" (Isaiah 40:31). He realizes what it takes, not only to be saved by grace, but also to operate with the freedom that the grace of God provides. Daily he enjoys the deliverance from sin that Jesus Christ has wrought for us on the cross of Calvary.

"I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ lives in me" (Galatians 2:20).

On the cross, Jesus Christ cancelled the validity of every one of the anxious issues of life. Because of the death of Christ, those things which used to seem so troublesome no longer give rise to concern. We come to know what is really important!

That Great Overcomer has come to live within me.

Have you read a little history? I hope so. In fact, the history of how the Church and the Roman Empire faced each other in those early days is really something. The Roman Empire looked so big, so strong! It tried to overwhelm the Church by its persecutions. But inch by inch, and hour by hour, there was that recession that came in Rome because of its corruption. In contrast, there was that beautiful expansion that came in the Church, because of the massive truth it possessed.

Sholem Asch, writing about this, finished his book about the Apostle Paul by saying, "The sword conquered for a time. But the spirit conquers forever." Jesus Christ conquers forever. He says, "Come and share that victory with Me." When you step into that position, you will be a Christian who rejoices in the Lord every day that you live, because God in Christ, the Great Overcomer, has come to live within your life.

THE BIBLE IS TRUE
by
Gertrud Wasserzug-Traeder, PH.D

We know the authenticity and dependability of the Word of God, but do we know why the Bible is true? Could we scripturally defend it if we had to? The author delves into the truth of God's Word in a brilliant defense of its inspiration and reliability.

THE TIDE OF OUR TIMES

“THE KING JAMES VERSION of the Bible, also known as the ‘Authorized Version,’ marks its 400th anniversary in 2011, and by any measure, it has had a lasting impact on the world and on the language into which it was sent...

Indeed, many of its phrases have entered everyday use, among them: ‘my brother’s keeper,’ ‘salt of the earth,’ ‘give up the ghost,’ ‘scapegoats,’ ‘an eye for an eye,’ ‘casting your pearls before swine,’ ‘scarlet woman,’ ‘writing on the wall’ and ‘the blind leading the blind.’...

Geof Morin, communications director for the American Bible Society, whose New York headquarters will host a King James Bible exhibit next year, called the King James ‘still relevant’ in the age of Twitter and Facebook...

‘In many ways, the KJV held a monopoly in English from about 1700 to 1950, as no other translation was seen as being significant over that period. Nowadays, there are multiple [English language] translations.’

That may be the case, but there may be life in the older text yet.

Compare its ‘Give us this day our daily bread,’ found in Matthew 6:11, to the rendering in ‘The Message,’ a popular modern version: ‘Keep us alive with three square meals.’”

Mark A. Kellnor,
The Washington Times

“HEY MOM! LOOK WHAT’S NEW at the Creation Museum--Over a dozen new, exciting exhibits designed especially for children were installed in the Creation Museum,” in Petersburg, Kentucky. “Called the ‘Knee High’ museum, these displays are interactive in nature, allowing children to have a hands-on experience as they journey through the museum’s walk through biblical history.”

“FOR GOD, NOTHING IS IMPOSSIBLE, and He will bring Israel back in the end times scenario as a nation of twelve tribes--just as it was considered hardly possible for the founding of an Israeli state and modernization of the Hebrew language. It is very impressive that people such as Rabbi Eliyahu Avichail, are seeking descendants of Israel all over the world through the Elijah project: in China, in the former Soviet Union, in India, Japan, Italy, Peru or Mexico. This is not about the well-known Diaspora Jews, who meet in synagogues and Jewish centers, and even have their own schools in larger cities, but about very old lines. The efforts are devoted to discovering Jews and bringing them back to Israel...

‘Then shall they know that I am the Lord their God, which caused them to be led into captivity among the heathen: but I have gathered them unto their own land, and have left none of them any more there’ (Ezekiel 39:28). This has never been fulfilled!...

The regathering in the land of Israel is taking place before our very eyes, and will finally be completed by God Himself.”

News From Israel

“WHEN GENERAL DWIGHT EISENHOWER, found the victims of the death camps, he ordered all possible photographs to be taken, and for the German people from surrounding villages to be ushered through the camps... He said, ‘Get it all on record now--get the films--get the witnesses--because somewhere down the road of history [someone] will get up and say that this never happened.’

Recently, the UK debated whether to remove The Holocaust from its school curriculum because it ‘offends’ the Muslim population which claims it never occurred...

Now, more than ever, with Iran, among others, claiming the Holocaust to be ‘a myth,’ it is imperative to make sure the world never forgets...How many years will it be before the attack on the World Trade Center ‘NEVER HAPPENED’ because it offends some Muslim in the United States?”

REVELATION THIRTEEN: SATAN'S LAST VICTORY by Arno Froese

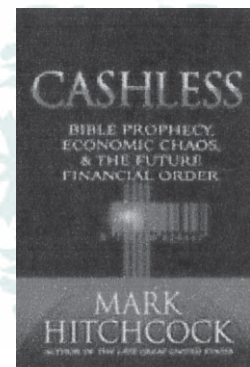

The theme of this book is how Satan and his cohorts accomplish the feat of deception and how far his preparations have progressed. "And all the world wondered after the beast...and they worshiped the beast...and power was given him over all kindreds, and tongues, and nations...and all that dwell upon the earth shall worship him...and he does great wonders, so that he makes fire come down from heaven on earth in the sight of men, and deceives them that dwell on the earth" (Rev. 13:3-14).

FOR CHILDREN

THE CHILDREN'S ILLUSTRATED BIBLE

by Selina Hastings

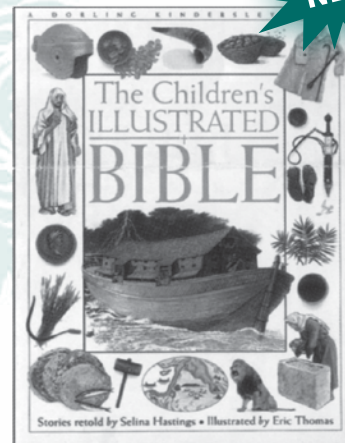

Illustrated by Eric Thomas

The story of the Bible is retold especially for children in clear, lively language that retains the poetry of the traditional KJV text. Color photographs of plants, animals, people, and places of the Bible lands set the stories in context.

Who's Who in the Bible Stories--from Aaron to Zedekiah.

Maps of the lands of the Old and New Testaments show where events take place. Prepared in consultation with educators, scholars, and religious advisers. A special gift for children and a source of inspiration for the entire family.
